

e-log...the smart way to build

economical:

- Payback in energy costs
- Return on investment
- Construction waste reduced
- Lower Home Owners Insurance

The homeowner will gain increased insulation and lower installation costs. This lightweight product requires no heavy machinery thus preserving the natural environment around the construction site.

e-log product comes with one coat of factory applied pre-stain, saving the homeowner time and labor costs. Improving property values and adding great curb appeal are just a few of the many factors that make the e-log siding system an economical solution.

Research shows there can be a 10-20% reduction in Home Owners insurance with the e-log siding system versus a full stack log home. This is an investment that will provide energy savings and an economical payback month after month.
